Understanding Special Requests on Expedia

Special requests on Expedia are extra instructions or preferences you want the hotel, airline, or travel provider to know about your booking. Examples include requesting a non-smoking room, a crib for a baby, or assistance for travelers with disabilities. While Expedia does not guarantee that all requests will be fulfilled, submitting them in advance increases the likelihood that your preferences are accommodated. For complex requests, calling ☎️ +1 (855) 510-4430 ensures your needs are clearly communicated.

Special requests are typically added during the booking process or after your booking is confirmed. Hotels often receive a notification of your request and try to accommodate it based on availability. Airlines, on the other hand, may have stricter regulations, especially for meal preferences or seat changes. Customer support at ☎️ +1 (855) 510-4430 can advise on whether to submit requests online or via phone.

Direct communication and early submission dramatically increase the likelihood of fulfilling your requests.
